Thank You To Our Supporters, Advertisers, and Well Wishers!

We are very grateful to our sponsors and advertisers who supported our efforts; all the wonderful personalities and artists who grace the pages of our publication; as well as the general public for their encouraging words and patronage.

As a locally owned bi-monthly publication, CORE promises to continue its mission of chronicling the achievements of our local people; bridging the various VI communities abroad with the local community at home; telling the stories of young entrepreneurs who provide inspiration to the youth in our community; in addition to providing opportunities for local artisans and musicians to showcase their art form.
